A CASE OF LYCANTHROPY

What is Lycanthropy you may ask? According to The American Journal of Psychiatry Vol. 134, No. 10. published in October 1977 it states:

"Lycanthropy, a psychosis in which the patient has delusions of being a wild animal (usually a wolf), has been recorded since antiquity. The Book of Daniel describes King Nebuchadnezzar as suffering from depression that deteriorated over a seven-year period into a frank psychosis at which time he imagined himself a wolf. Among the first medical descriptions were those of Paulus Aegineta during the later days of the Roman Empire. In his description of the symptom complex, Aegineta made reference to Greek mythology in which Zeus turned King Lycaon of Arcadia into a raging wolf. Thereafter, references to lycanthropy appeared in the ancient literature. Many medieval theologians envisioned lycanthropy as a consequence of the evil eye.Delusions of being a wolf or some other feared animal are universal and, although rare in the industrialized countries, still occur in China, India, Africa, and Central and South America. The animals in the delusioned transformation include leopards, lions, elephants, crocodiles, sharks, buffalo, eagles, and serpents.Not infrequently, bizarre and chaotic sexuality is expressed in a primitive way through the lycanthropic symptom complex. Patients whose internal fears exceed their coping mechanisms may externalize them via projection and constitute a serious threat to others. Throughout the ages, such individuals have been feared because of their tendencies to commit bestial acts and were themselves hunted and killed by the populace. Many of these people were paranoid schizophrenics."

Thoughts of werewolf movies may come to your mind from: The Boy Who Cried Wolf, Blood, Bad Moon, The Curse of the Werewolf, Death Moon, Face of the Screaming Werewolf, Teen Wolf, The Wolfman, Project: Metal Beast - DNA Overlord and Ginger Snaps. But, we're not here to talk about good werewolf horror movies, we are here to talk about two real werewolves! Lolita Moonshadow and Katrina Kanine!

I get a call from Lolita Moonshadow and Katrina Kanine. They are self-proclaimed werewolves. What the? Okay Lolita and Katrina, where can I meet you at? We first met at the Avid Reader at Broadway and crossed the street over to Starbucks for a refreshing frappachino. Lolita and Katrina are cousins, they claim to be of Romanian descent. They claim to have a long history of werewolves in their family. I asked them, how do you know you are werewolves, besides the Romanian descent and thinking your family members are werewolves? They said they both crave raw meat. When a dog, cat or a rabbit crosses their paths, they have the urge to 'chase'. They feel domination over men, physically and mentally. When the full moon rises, they feel the urge to hunt. They must suppress their dark desires. They said they have a lot of dark desires within their inner souls.

I asked them to elaborate on their dark desires and they asked me if I ever saw An American Werewolf in London and they left it at that. I pondered...do they have the desire to kill? They both feel they have a chemical imbalance during a full moon, but feel they have everything under control. They both showed me their unusual long canines. I don't know if they were unusually long, or if they stood out more. They said that during a full moon, they get more hair on their arms and legs. They said that they have a keen sense of smell and after they get used to my smell, they would be able to sniff me out a block away. Katrina took my arm and dug in a bit with her fingernails and looked at me and said..."Paul, I have a hunger!" Okay, okay, just as long as it is not me! We discussed if silver bullets can kill werewolves and they said that a real werewolf can be killed by any bullet, that is a myth. They told me that their eyesight changes over to seeing everything in black and white during a full moon, they feel greater strength and are quite agile. They claim that if they are with their boyfriends during a full moon, their sexual desires are greatly heightened and their boyfriends are not able to handle their wild frenzy. They describe it as throwing a bull carcass in the Amazon river and watching piranhas go into a feeding frenzy. They said that their love life had dwindled, when anytime their lovers discovered the true essence of their beings. They said that last week, their boyfriends left them and they are single again.

At this point of time, I noticed a bead of sweat dripping from my brow. I knew I better end this interview as quickly as I started it. I noticed that Lolita had purchased a werewolf book from Avid Reader. Yes! These girls were truly into lycanthropy. Before, I left, we discussed werewolf sightings in Placerville and the Sierras. They said, that at times they feel a calling for the Sierras to find their brethren. What is so unusual, after I met them, I have been contacted by another werewolf girl in Fremont and I plan to interview her too. She claims that there are werewolf sightings in Antioch. She has a very interesting story to tell also! When I stood up from Starbucks, both were eyeing me strangely and both stood around me, as if they were blocking me from the entrance. Lolita grabbed my shoulder and said..."Paul, remember one thing, doctor up our photo, we do not want to be identified for this article and make sure not to identify us in anyway in this article. We know where you live!" I looked back at Lolita and Katrina and said..."sure, no problem, no problem at all!"
As I left Starbucks, I thought how safer it would be to just hunt ghosts, they don't make threats! Before I close this article, I met Tanya Filer, a clerk at my local Bel-Air and she told me about an abandoned house in Elk Grove that she wants me to investigate. The house has been abandoned for 7 years, because no one will purchase the home, its reputed to be haunted. The story goes that a builder of the house, killed himself with a nail gun. People who have entered the home, claim that the phantom builder looks at them and is holding a nail gun in his hand. Okay, Tanya, where is this house? I am willing and ready to investigate! As I rode home tonight on the lightrail, Julie Surjan a good friend of mine, who knows I am a ghost hunter, had me all hooked on her story. She said, that a strange thing happened to her last night. She was watching TV and saw something at the corner of her eye, it was dark and black. I asked..."was it a shadow person?" She looks at me and laughs..."no, it was a black widow spider! I had the hardest time killing the thing!"

Subject: An American Werewolf in Fremont Sat Jan 26, 2008 4:49 pm

Before I encountered my third werewolf. The first ones being Lolita Moonshadow and Katrina Kanine, in which I have already written about, I will tell you what I did September 30, 2007, Sunday. I went to Nancy Bradley's (Psychic to the Stars) office (called the Haunted Cottage) to film Ghost Girls. I brought paranormal investigator Chris Grissom with me and we met up with the Ghost Girls themselves...Shannon 'Ms. Macabre' McCabe and Nancy Bradley! Nancy and her husband Robert

Reppert treated us to a lavish Mexican dinner at Casa Romos Restaurant. Robert Repport, Paranormal Investigator for Gold Rush Ghosts took us to about 5 family cemeteries in Placerville, where we took pictures of Shannon & Nancy at various gravesites for the upcoming DVD 'Ghost Girls'. In one of the cemeteries I turned on my Listen Up - sound enhancer device and picked up a small girl saying 3 inaudible words. Nancy determined it was a small girl named Betty Carlton, age 5 years old. When I was leaving this local Placerville cemetery, it was as if the little phantom girl didn't want me to leave and she said a distinct 'hey!' After we filmed in Nancy's office and I was heading home, Nancy gave me her book 'The Incredible World of Gold Rush Ghosts (The Big Picture) by Nancy Bradley & Robert Reppert and signed it "To Paul, My New Partner in Crime - Blessings to my friend Nancy Bradley 2007." What a sweet lady and I will cherish her book forever! Make sure to pick up the DVD Ghost Girls, for more information, check out Nancy's website at: www.nancybradley.org

Now to the werewolf I was talking about! Meet The Mundane. This is the name that our werewolf girl calls herself. I met her at Starbucks in Vallejo. She drove up from Fremont and I drove down from Sacramento, we met half way. I have never seen The Mundane before, but I was able to spot her out easily. She wore cat ears head band, a pentagram ring and a black T-shirt that read 'Live Animal'. Not hard to find at all. She was busy drawing, this 21 year old girl can draw as good as Boris Vallejo. She displayed some of her wonderful fantasy artwork. This is her story. About 4 years ago, she was bit by a mountain lion while doing voluntary work at the San Diego Zoo. The male mountain lion was playing with her at first and had her arm in his mouth, then he got rough and actually bit her. The Mundane tells me that everyone has an animal spirit within their being and when she got bit, it brought out her wolflike attributes that she was born with. She tells me she even knows a were-moose. When she got bit that day, the essence of the wolf took over her persona. It possessed her. She tells me that she is friends with a were-panther named Cassandra, that has actual bat wings attached to her back. She tells me that it's rare for werewolves to really transform and that she can't transform at all.

The Mundane says that on the energy plane anything is possible and that includes living fire-breathing dragons. She said that she has heightened senses, such as hearing, smell, eyesight and even the sense of touch. She can feel the fluctuations around a person's body. When she became a werewolf, the hairs on her arms became dark. She pulls up her pants leg and displays a whole lot of hair on her legs. The Mundane was born and raised a Catholic, but has embraced the Pagan beliefs. She craves meat, has eaten raw meat, but mostly orders medium rare steaks. During a full moon, her senses sky rocket in intensity. This happens the day before a full moon, during the full moon and after a full moon. Three nights of sensationally heightened senses. She tells me that silver cannot harm her, but she has heard that silver can cause an allergic reaction to some werewolves. She doesn't like to be in enclosed spaces. She lives a normal working life as a hostess at the Olive Garden, she has a boyfriend and her boyfriend is not 'awakened', but he is also a werewolf. None of her relatives are werewolves. She tells me that she believes in the afterlife, she listens to Celtic, country and blues music. She loves to hunt and she will hunt deer with a long bow. She adores animals and will help animals, she has been known to take in stray dogs. Vultures, any bird of prey, ravens and crows follow her around. She is also a 'falconer', she is able to hunt with falcons. She displays no canine teeth. She tells me that she knows a few vampires (energy and physical vampires) and that werewolves and vampires are not mortal enemies as Hollywood would like you to believe. She has gone to a vampire club and she wasn't welcome. This was just the way the club treated her, not because they didn't like werewolves. To pass time, she at times plays Dungeons & Dragons, Masquerade and Werewolf Apocalypse. She tells me how she first learned about HPI, through one of my articles on my scouting mission with Athena Quinn to Sutter's Fort. She is very familiar with Sutter's Fort and the church nearby where we found some EVP evidence. She explains to me that she is a slight empath and that when she lived in Sacramento on 50/Bradshaw, she would hear noises at night and the lights turned on randomly on their own. At her friend's house in Sacramento, there was an explosion heard in the house and when she investigated the explosion with her friend, they discovered a plastic mug had shattered into 5 pieces for no apparent reason. She elaborates more on how she loves animals and fondly talks about her black Labrador retriever named Brutus Maximus. She calls Brutus, her baby. One of the psychic abilities that she has is being able to know when her friends will call her or visit with her, before it happens. Her sixth sense ability seems to be centered on her closest associates. Her favorite movies are Van Helsing, American Werewolf in Paris, she even loved the werewolves that were featured in Harry Potter and Dr. Who. During a full moon, she is more sexually aroused.

Here is the strange part of my interview, I learn that certain entities inhabit her body. They are Isis the Dragon, Dartanian the Raptor (yep, a dinosaur inhabits her body), Thane the Chinese Dragon - Protector of the 4th Tower, Kata the Demon - which is in the form of a black spectral tiger. She has a Phoenix named Moonshadow (no relation to Lolita Moonshadow) that is her guardian. She has learned to write in ancient pagan runes. I got curious and asked her what animal spirit inhabits my body? She said it was a raccoon, because of my journalistic curiosity. Before I left, she asked if HPI could investigate two areas that she has frequented, the Mystery Spot in Santa Cruz and some overgrown weed infested cemetery in Fremont. I explained to her that I have been to the Mystery Spot in Santa Cruz and found the place....mysterious, especially when balls roll up hill and trees grow to a slant. I have always theorized that The Mystery Spot is a point of origin for a leyline, but that is only my theory. When I visited the Mystery Spot, I also stopped over for a tour of the Winchester Mansion....I love that place!

I will be enclosing drawings that The Mundane showed me, some of the drawings are the entities that inhabit her body, some are drawings of her were friends and some are just drawings from her mind. The white wolf is called Ghost, that is the essence of the wolf that now inhabits her body.

Being a paranormal investigator, I have investigated so many things paranormal, such as a numerologist, psychics, the Wicca culture, werewolves, vampires, UFOs, cults, secret societies, ghosts, possible demon possession and I soon will be investigating the last of the Lemurians at Mt. Shasta, along with Bigfoot. I have always wanted to investigate dopplegangers, incubus, succubus, Mothmen, Men in Black, Reptilians, sea serpents, zombies and anything else considered paranormal. So for the reader reading this article, if you have something unusual you want me to check out, let's say you have a crop circle in your backyard, give me a ring. I will be there in a moment's notice, because stepping into the paranormal is my business. As I headed back to Sacramento, I threw on the song 'Werewolves of London by Warren Zevon' and 'Monster Mash by Bobby 'Boris' Pickett', you know how I like getting into the mood of things!

Special Note: The Mundane would not allow me to take her photograph or use her real name in this article. I am able to display her artwork for this article, digital photographs from her scrapbook.

The date is February 23, 2007 and I have been contacted by H.P.I. (Haunted and Paranormal Investigations) of Northern California to investigate a residential haunting in West Sacramento. West Sacramento is known to be a port of the Sacramento River. West Sacramento is a lazy industrial town that is connected to the Capitol of California, known to the world as the city of Sacramento. The location of the residence and the homeowners will not be identified. They requested confidentiality in regard to this investigation.

INVESTIGATORS ROLL CALL:
Paul Dale Roberts - Ghost Writer/Paranormal Investigator; Alicia Perry - Paranormal Investigator/Video Manager; Mary Casiano - Paranormal Investigator; Brian Colbert - Equipment Operator/Paranormal Investigator.

Brian Colbert and Alicia Perry set up the HP Pavilion laptop, temperature meter, thermal infrared monitor device, audacity audio editing equipment, video cameras, digital cameras. The resident explained to us that her Chihuahua "Sierra" was sitting in the living room, looking towards the kitchen (the kitchen and living room are a "great room" with hanging cabinets between the two and a raised counter) and Sierra was staring at something for about 30 seconds. Then she slowly moved her gaze to the left until she was focusing on the doorway to the bedrooms. Then she trotted off to do something else. But about 15 minutes later she returned to the same spot and repeated the whole process again. And then when it happened a third time, the resident decided to take some digital pictures to see if she could catch whatever it was that Sierra was seeing, and captured clear images of what appears to be a shadow person. When Sierra was focused on the kitchen cabinets three times and barked frantically the resident started taking digital pictures and captured clear images of what appeared to be a shadow person.

The Shadow Person was captured by digital photos by the homeowner, as the homeowner went into a full circle snapping pictures, this occurred February 3, 2007, between 9pm and 10pm. I asked the homeowner how old the home was. She said it was built in 1939. Past stories of this residence are as follows:

a) When homeowners watch TV, they see what appears to be Shadow People at the corner of their eyes, darting around in the kitchen area.

b) Orbs seen floating around in kitchen in January 2007.

WEST
TUYA
CHINO
Two Chihuahua's named Tuya and Chino see a ghostly young woman in 1800s garb walking in the living room of a house in West Sacramento, CA.

c) Video footage of one of their Chihuahuas looking at an orb. The dog Tuya just stopped in its tracks as the orb darted past her. This video was shown to me, a very clear picture of the orb and how the dog turned her head around to watch the orb.

d) Cupboards heard opening and slamming shut.

e) Baby crying sounds caught on EVP (Electronic Voice Phenomenon). The baby crying sounds occurred while homeowners slept.

f) The homeowners have lived in the house for 12 years and have witnessed ghostly spiders in the closet. One spider was as large as 6 inches in width. Also, pink orbs have been seen floating in the bedroom. A ghostly hand was seen at the bedside one night.

g) On one EVP, you can distinctly hear a mischievous woman spirit say 'do you want to hear a fart?" The EVP then records a child's laughter. Another EVP detects a woman's voice say 'What the hell do you want from us?"

h) One EVP recording sounded like a woman's voice saying either 'sister I love you' or 'Mary I love you!'. Then later there is a sound of Native American drums beating in the distance. West Sacramento land was once inhabited by Miwok Native Americans, before the pioneers showed up.

i) The homeowners feel like they are being watched by unseen entities. One evening a candle flew off the TV set. Another day the coffee maker came on by itself. Homeowners said that when they moved into the home, something just didn't feel right about the house. The house was even blessed, but the hauntings continued. The resident felt that a negative presence was somehow attached to a built-in workbench in the garage. She and her father tore it out and took it to the dump, hoping the presence would leave with it. However, a roommate shortly afterwards had a frightening experience in which something brushed up against her, thumped into the window and thrashed about the blinds. She called the homeowner, scared out of her wits, saying she thought the entity wanted to hurt her. When the mother of the homeowner came over to visit, she slept on the couch and something awoke her in the middle of the night. She was heard screaming, "Get behind me Satan!". She didn't know what frightened her, just that it was something negative and she knew to tell it to leave. She would never explain what she saw. Another guest merely had something touch her shoulder as to comfort her.

Paul Dale Roberts, Paranormal Investigator watches TV monitor and sees flying orbs all around him. Location: Home in West Sacramento.

j) The other homeowner claims that she was induced with 3 vivid dreams by the entity, in sequential order, one dream per night, three nights in a row. 1st dream was 1st Dream: That both home owners were in the living room home owner #1 said to home owner #2 (the one dreaming) to look in the middle of the living room very intently and you can barely make out the features of a female face. #2 homeowner proceeded to stare and the entity started to manifest into a person, until she was able to see a woman, in her late 30's, early 40's. She was dressed in a black blouse with a lighter skirt (1800's style). Her hair was dark and pulled back in a bun. Her face looked serious. 2nd Dream: This took place in the home's kitchen, and home owner #2 was looking out the kitchen side door and she could see in the distance a tall, thin man dressed in old western garb. And he was staring at her and he appeared to be floating above the ground. 3rd Dream: This one took place in a "mall" of some sort, both home owners were present. And all of a sudden a little girl 15 months to 2 years old came running up to #2, she had long dark, curly hair with big beautiful brown eyes. She came up to #2, smiling and hugged her by the neck as #2 bent down to her. And then all of a sudden a woman came up and grabbed the child and took her by the arm and walked away with her. And the child started screaming in protest. As #2 was watching this, the woman stopped in the doorway and turned and looked back at her. Her hair was pulled up into a bun on top of her head. She had a light colored blouse and long dark skirt (early 1900's style). And somebody that was standing nearby said, "she's a nun".

As I walked around the room, I felt a spike of cold air hit my arm. Another time, I felt static energy on my leg. As I sat in the middle of the kitchen, orbs flew all around me. This was captured on the TV monitor. I could look at the TV monitor while sitting in the kitchen and orbs were flying around my legs, across my chest, around my head. I could see on the live TV monitor, 3 orbs flying in unison. When Shannon sat in the middle of the kitchen, orbs circled and engulfed her and even appeared to chase her around the kitchen. Then an incredible amount of orbs, some small, some as huge as a grapefruit circled around Alicia Perry. This was all captured on video. Alicia and I lightly touched a wine glass with one finger and enticed the spirit to move the glass through our bodies. Our fingers delicately touched the outside rim of the glass and the glass moved deliberately three times. On the live video, you could see the orbs go through Alicia's body, down her arm and through her fingers when the glass was moving. Everyone was stunned at the footage! I practically fell out of my chair in disbelief. Every time the glass moved, an orb would go down someone's arm and through their fingers. At some point of time, when I was enticing the spirit Izzy (you will see how she got this name later in this article), I felt a cold spot on my leg, that felt like a cold hand, I was completely astonished!

Mary and I felt a cold spot together and this occurred around 9:44pm.

At 10:03pm, the footstool in the living room starts rocking on its own. Chino, another pet Chihuahua detects a presence and is focused on one part of the room and the temperature meter detects a cold spot at the area where Chino is focused upon. At 10:07pm, Mary and I feel another cold spot near the kitchen. As all of the investigators watched the video footage, we would tell the entity Isabel or Izzy to have 2 orbs fly by for a 'yes' and 3 orbs to fly by for a 'no'. The homeowner feels the entity's name is Isabel or Izzy, because this is what a medium told her and another entity by the name of George shows up.

By going through years, we determined when Izzy died, it was 1913, in the month of July. I would say, I will name off months, fly by once during the month of your death. When I said July, a huge orb flies by. I confirm this by doing the months again and when I reach July, another orb flies by confirming that it was the month of July. By using this technique we gathered that Izzy is in her 20s, died of some kind of heart failure. That she absolutely loves the homeowners, that she protects them from a portal in which George, a shadow person or other entities may enter near and around the garage area by the back of the kitchen. Izzy keeps the other entities at bay. She did some strong confirmation on this, with flying orbs. We asked about the crying baby we heard on the EVP and Izzy said the baby went to heaven and that she would help out in finding a ring that George (another spirit) hid.

West Sacramento is known as a port to riverboaters, but it also seems to hide another secret. A portal in an undisclosed home in this sleepy little town. May Izzy always be the guardian to this portal.

An added note: There was a follow-up on the EVPs, in which the female ghost called one of the investigators a leprechaun (because of her size?), the EVP sounds like it says..."that's what you think leprechaun!" Another EVP says..."should I f with her?' or words to that effect.

Added Note: William Tell, Johnny Appleseed and X are seemingly in the middle of nowhere. All Jazma Universe superheroes and super villains have “portal capabilities”. They are able to create a portal with a certain device and the portal will take them back home. All Jazma super humans are never stranded in the middle of nowhere. Some Jazma super humans have flight capabilities also.

UFO SIGHTINGS AND ALIEN VISITATIONS
FACTS AND FALSEHOODS
KEVIN D. RANDLE

Name: UFO Sightings and Alien Visitations (Facts and Falsehoods)
BOOK REVIEW
Author: Kevin D. Randle
Publisher: Visible Ink
Price: $24.95
Overviewed by Paul Dale Roberts, Jazma Online Forum
Comments: Mr. Randle hooks you right into this book when he mentions how early man witnessed strange beings arriving from the heavens. Early man described it the best way that he can, by saying they came by flaming swords, shields, chariots, etc. The extraterrestrials were described as angels, gods, demons or devils. Mr. Randle mentions on how alien visitation is looked upon by some, as being ridiculous. The information seems to be suppressed. Why is that? Mr. Randle in this book seems to have the answers. In the section "A World of Alien Encounters", the author looks on how we focus on UFO sightings here in the USA, but seem to forget the phenomena is all over the world. The author also mentions how Erich von Daniken popularized the idea of gods as alien visitors with his book Chariot of the Gods. People seem to forget that Erich was not the first one to suggest that our gods may have been extraterrestrials. Erich was a decade behind others who suggested this idea, like Brinsley Le Poer Trench, a British Earl. This earl traveled to many of these archaeological sites and did his own investigation. In this book, there are many photos and drawings. A lot of eye-candy for the Ufologist in training. I highly enjoyed the section about how some aliens look like they are wearing diving suits and some kind of breathing apparatus. With this book, you will be very intrigued when you get to the section on bodies, crashes and retrievals.

You will learn about Dick Hall, Ufologist for NICAP and the Fund of UFO Research. Dick met a lieutenant colonel that saw the bodies of 4 alien beings at Langley Air Force Base from a crash that occurred near White Sands Missile Range in New Mexico. You will find reports from reputable people who have witnessed a UFO. Case example from this book: Herchel Fueston, a patrolman for Noblesville, Indiana, reported a cigar-shaped object just before midnight. When he turned his spotlight on it, it began moving to the southwest as it brightened. It flew over the Morse Reservoir and hovered briefly. Fueston reported a row of windows, but couldn't see anything through them. Finally the UFO descended to treetop level and disappeared. You will find the legendary Rendlesham Forest story in this book. I really enjoyed looking at the sketches and drawings of the entities that witnesses drew. Under hypnosis, Pat Roach (witness) produced a drawing of what she said the alien creatures looked like. Looking at the sketch, the alien seems to be wearing a helmet, some kind of uniform, some kind of belt that crosses his torso, a unique belt that goes around his waist. Some witnesses go through hell after reporting a sighting. Calvin Parker, an abductee had a hard time with life afterwards. With a teaser, you will also get the Varginha Incident. The Varginha Incident occurred in January 1996 in Varginha, Brazil. Local residents reported seeing a mysterious craft crash or maneuver oddly, followed by claims that the military and emergency services captured non-human creatures. Often called "Brazil's Roswell", the event remains a famous mix of intense witness claims and official military denials. Mr. Randle looks at deep space objects, hybrid offspring, the Roswell Incident, the Nimitz Encounter and a whole lot more. You won't be disappointed! Kevin D. Randle's book has a smorgasbord of UFO stories, reports and a case-by-case analysis! Simply outstanding!

Subject: The Cherie Vincent Story: Water Witching Rods, Vampirism and Ghost Hunting. Sat Jan 26, 2008 3:11 pm QUOTE

Before we talk about Cherie Vincent, let's talk about a few other things. Today is Sunday, April 29, 2007, and I stopped by Bel-Air Market to get a few things for my lunch during the work week and came across Jessica Arriola, who enjoys reading my ghost articles. She ran up and gave me a hug and inquired about my latest article in regard to the Brookdale Haunting investigation. So, this day is starting good. This morning I have to stop at Starbucks and meet a woman (name withheld due to confidentiality, she will be referred to as Jane Doe throughout this article) on her experiences of possibly being abducted by aliens. I am on an H.P.I. (Haunted and Paranormal Investigations) of Northern California scouting expedition seeking out possible investigations for the team. Jane Doe sent me an email after reading my articles and wanted to relate her story to me. Jane Doe had a very sweet smile and the biggest brown eyes. The story is very strange. At age 7, she experienced sleep paralysis and was unable to move from her bed. Age 10, she saw a large shadow that appeared to her as the grim reaper. The entity looked sinister and from the way she was describing the entity, it sounded like the man in black that is mentioned in the Versailles Time-slip story. Age 14, she again experienced sleep paralysis. Age 23, during her sleep paralysis a large white light appeared in front of her face, it was hazy and she was later able to place her hand through the white hazy light. The light dissipated and everything went back to normal. At age 29, she saw a black shadow that covered her whole body, then a white light surrounded her body. I am not quite sure if she is being abducted by aliens, but she is experiencing lots of light activity during the sleep paralysis. It also seems that she is experiencing the man in black type of entity as described in the infamous Versailles Time-slip incident. Men in Black of course are connected to the UFO phenomenon. Would this experience by Jane Doe be reasonable for an investigation? I doubt it, because we would have to hang out for years at her home to experience anything.

As I left Starbucks, I wonder how I became the Kolchak: "The Night Stalker" kind of reporter for H.P.I. But, thinking about it I have always been interested in the paranormal. On my own before I joined H.P.I., I investigated the Superstitious Mountains in Arizona, Billy the Kid's grave, Tower of London, haunted caverns under Dublin Castle in Ireland, a haunted red light district studio in Amsterdam, in which I captured an orb next to a lady of the night, Winchester House and OK Corral - Tombstone. The paranormal has followed me around my whole life. In 1976, I witnessed 6 glowing discs in formation over Ft. Jackson, South Carolina. In 1979, I joined the U.S. Army's Military Intelligence (M.I.) and found the M.I. connection to the UFO phenomenon. Of course, when I was a young boy, I lived in a haunted house on Effy Street in Fresno. All of these experiences have been recorded for posterity. I remember one day, I was writing a fictional story on ghost hunters in which I gave them the acronym of S.P.I.T. (Sacramento Paranormal Investigation Team). I did a google search to make sure SPIT was not being used anywhere else and happened upon HPI. Before I knew it, I went on my first investigation with them and became their Ghost Writer and assistant organizer.

After my first interview with Jane Doe, I was heading up to Folsom, CA to meet up with fellow H.P.I. paranormal investigator Cherie Vincent. Cherie has been doing scouting investigations at nearby cemeteries near her home. The cemeteries are: St. John's Baptist Church Cemetery and Lakeside Memorial Lawn Cemetery. On one of her investigations, she was conducting EVP (Electronic Voice Phenomenon) experiments and said "anyone want to talk to me"? The EVP that she played back to me, distinctly said "okay". Cherie blew me away today, but before I get all carried away with some of this mind-blowing stuff. Let me introduce you to Cherie. Cherie has gorgeous maroon dark curly brown hair, 2 vampire bite tattoos on her neck. She has actual vampire canine teeth! Cherie is a vampire fanatic. She loves the realm of vampirism, but doesn't consider herself as a real vampire. When she explained this to me thoughts of the movie "Blade" and "Underworld" came to mind. On her naval is a tattoo of a sea horse. Yes, Cherie is quite the interesting lady. Cherie is a Ouija Board enthusiast and has her own Ouija Board Meet-up Group. Cherie is also a practitioner of the use of divining rods. Divining rods are also known as water witching rods, dowsing rods and witching sticks. Cherie has a sweet personality and the brightest smile. It was enjoyable interviewing her.

Before Cherie and I went on our own private investigation, she showed me video footage of the nearby cemeteries that distinctly show dancing orbs. She showed me photographs of orbs in the cemetery. Her EVPs that she played back to me were incredible. She walked by a tombstone with the name of Jason and on the EVP, it played back the Jason Voorhees of Friday the 13th scary sound that goes 'tsch - tsch - tsch'. The Jason incident occurred at Mt. Vernon Cemetery. So, this tells me that ghosts have a sense of humor. Other EVPs that she had me listen to were:
Cherie: "Can we sit here?" EVP Male Voice: "I'll be glad to, alright."
EVP Male Voice: "Help".
EVP Woman Voice: "Take me Away."
EVP Male Voice over grave of Daniel - WWI Veteran: "Alright".

Cherie also explained to me that when using her Ouija Board, her TV sometimes goes on static. Most of the time she gets an entity named Tod, who was born in 1919 and died in 1929. He lays out on the board, the words 'mama'. But, what is also interesting is that a woman committed suicide that lived directly behind her and her name was Dot. This is Tod spelled backwards. Cherie wanted to throw that in, it was an odd coincidence. Cherie goes on to say that she was attracted to Ouija Boards, she had an urge to release her energy within the board.

Now back to Cherie and I. Back to our own private investigation. Our first investigation was at St. John Baptist Church. Cherie showed me where she picked up EVPs at grave sites such as "Daniel A. Lowney, CPL US Army WWI - Born: April 11, 1891 - Died: Feb 17, 1969 and Frank Antonio's grave site. The EVPs that we picked up at this cemetery are:
"I miss you".
"Alright."

Other EVPs that we picked up at Lakeside Memorial Lawn Cemetery were:
Paul: Excited on how divining rods worked, I said "holy sxxx!" and "sxxx!" The entity in turn mocked me and said "holy sxxx!" and "sxxx!".
EVP Male Voice: "Those are great" (talking about divining rods).
EVP Male Voice: "What are those?" (another male voice, asking about divining rods).
Paul: "Tell me your story." EVP Male Voice: Long conversation (unintelligent), but you can make out some kind of conversation.

During our investigation at Lakeside Memorial Lawn Cemetery, is where I got really freaked out. Mind you, this is during broad daylight! Here are the incidents that took place. Cherie pulled out her dowsing rods. I held one, she held one. She asked the dowsing rod: “Where is there a spirit?” The dowsing rod that she was holding and the one I held both moved in unison, pointing the same direction 8 different times and then pointed down to one location, it pointed to a grave. The dowsing rods that we both were holding were indicating a spirit was over this grave. I did not in anyway, move the dowsing rod to coordinate with Cherie's dowsing rod. I was blown away! Then Cherie would take me to various graves and I would not look at the grave, and I asked the dowsing rod to indicate if the grave was female or male. If it was a female the dowsing rods would cross and if it was a male the dowsing rods would remain the same. We did this 12 times and only once, it gave me a false reading. So, 11 times it gave me the correct answer. About this time, I am pretty freaked out. As Cherie and I sat on the bench at the graveyard a huge black buzzard flew onto the top of the tree. It had a huge wingspan. A buzzard in a cemetery? How very strange. When Cherie and I sat in my car, I spoke into the EVP and asked..."is there anyone in this car?" Cherie played back the EVP and again, I almost fell out of my chair. The EVP voice, not my voice, nor was it Cherie's voice...said "yes". It was a man's voice and a strong heavy whisper, that really sounded creepy! Ask me now if I believe in life after death and my answer is a definite 'yes!' At this cemetery I was blown away with the dowsing rod experience and cussed in excitement and accidentally said "G" damn out loud. Then I said, if there is a spirit here, let it touch me. No more than 5 minutes later a burning sensation was felt on my leg. I looked down, there is a scratch and what looked like 2 bite marks and I was bleeding. There was no bug on my leg. The burning sensation hurt so much after I left the cemetery. I had to pull the car over to examine my leg. The area swelled and there was a bruising of my left leg. The bruise that was left was in the shape of a thumb. This was a very shocking experience, and I am still in complete awe, with my jaw agape at astonishment! I will not forget on how we were asking the name of a spirit and on the EVP, it was a male voice that said "Norwick". The entity was saying his name was Norwick? This is extremely weird! Thank you Cherie, for this wild and exciting experience!

Ghostbusters at the Old Historical City Cemetery - Sacramento!
By Paul Dale Roberts

It's April 7, 2007, Saturday. The time is 10:00 a.m. H.P.I. (Haunted and Paranormal Investigations) of Northern California take claim to this cemetery on this day for about a couple of hours! On this sort of cloudy gloomy day, H.P.I. Paranormal Investigators entered the main gate of this old historical cemetery on Broadway in downtown Sacramento. We have a good turn-out, the investigators are: Shannon McCabe/President/Lead Investigator; Tim Hawkins; Wendy Smith (Shannon's mom); Carol Gillis; John Wachter aka Vlawde/Lead Investigator; Kristen Sheley/Researcher; Paul Dale Roberts/Ghost Writer; Julie English; Cherie Vincente; Jennifer Baca; Anusha Wickramasinghe; Michelle Paykel; Emily McCarthy; Dandamudi Veerendranadh aka Vee.

There is a historian at this outing and he relates all kinds of historical information about this cemetery, which can be found at this site: http://www.oldcitycemetery.com/ I will give you a quick history lesson. The cemetery was established in 1849 and some of the people that are buried at this cemetery died in the 1850 Cholera Epidemic outbreak. We noted many graves are marked by the secretive organization known as the Freemasons. I'm a Rosicrucian (A.M.O.R.C. Antiquus Mysticusque Ordo Rosae Crucis) - Key Number 5000030 - Member since 2001, so of course I took interest to this. One tombstone reads: The Founder of the Order of the Native Sons of the Golden West - General A.M. Winn Born: 4/27/1810 - Died: 8/26/1883. The Sutter family is buried at this historical cemetery also.

This is the 3rd time I have been to this cemetery. The first time was when I went on the Halloween Twilight Tour with a psychic. The psychic saw many entities near and around the cemetery. She told the group that there was 3 women by a tree and that if we placed our hands into the area where the ghostly women were, we would be able to feel something. So I tried it and I felt a rubbing movement on my hand. My son Jason and ex-wife Patricia tried placing their hands in the same area and they felt a coldness. The second time I went to this cemetery was with my black Chow T-Rex and my Jack Russell Terrier Pika. Pika came to an area of the cemetery and was barking like crazy, he wouldn't stop. He was barking at plain air, while T-Rex laid down and ignored the barking. I believe Pika may be an intuitive.

Well, here I am again, my 3rd time around, this time with H.P.I. Since it's daytime, I figured we were not going to encounter any ghosts. So, I decided to ask some of the investigators about their experiences with the paranormal. Here is what some of them had to say.

Cherie Vincente: One time she did an investigation at Mt. Vernon Cemetery and was using her EVP (Electronic Voice Phenomenon) monitor to see if she could pick up ghostly voices. She felt like an entity followed her home. The entity actually touched her on the neck. Her second encounter was because a woman died of a drug overdose behind her home. Because of her size, they had a hard time getting her out of the house. She had been dead for 3 days in her home. After the woman died, Cherie saw a clear shimmering image and her TV would go into static mode. Could this been the dead woman who died in the home behind her house?

Jennifer Baca: "When I lived in Michigan, my ex-sister-in-law and I did a seance and I felt like we summoned a spirit guide named 'White Feather', an Indian woman. Once when I was taking a nap, I felt a brushing against my hair. This happened to me twice."

Tim Hawkins: "When I lived in Carmichael, California, I lived with a ghost, that I called 'Melvin'. Melvin would visit my house guests. He would open the door and check on my guests. Once he threw a picture. I once heard crying in another room and there was no one there. There was this strange column of odor, that smelled like a burning smell, it moved around the house, I chased the column of odor around the house until it dissipated. Sometimes there were missing objects in the house."

Anusha Wickramasinghe: "While in Sri Lanka, I always felt presences in my home. I am a Buddhist and we have strong beliefs in reincarnation. I am considered a 'sensitive', because I can feel certain things. When I was at Mather A.F.B., I once felt a spirit walking behind me, I heard a spirit's voice call my name. My mother at Mather A.F.B. once saw a man in white and the ghostly entity walked away. When my mother went to investigate, there was nothing there."

Michelle Paykel: "When I was 8 years old, my grandpa died. I felt like my grandpa would check on me and my sister. There was once a glowing figure at the door, this occurred after he had died. This happened in Carmichael. My daughter saw my father's ghost sitting on the front porch, she was 2 years old at the time."

John Wachter aka Vlawde: "When I was young, from age 4 to age 7, I would hear my name called out. I would see if my parents were calling me, but it wasn't them. When I got older, the name calling stopped."

Kristen Sheley: "When I lived in Oregon, I played around with a Ouija Board. I asked for the entity to make his or her presence known and the smoke detector went off. Never played with a Ouija Board again."

Emily McCarthy: "When I was in high school, my sister and I lived in a house in East Sacramento, somewhere by 40th and R Street. The house, a small brick house was built in the 1920s or 1930s. The doorbell of this home would ring on its own. Sometimes there were knockings on the door and no one was there. My mother saw a woman in a nightgown, and she thought it was me. She actually saw a ghostly woman's figure in a nightgown. Sometimes in this house, the lights went on and off on its own accord. We lived in this house in 1999 to the year 2000. When my sister told her teacher about this house, the teacher was familiar with the stories of this haunted home."

Paul Dale Roberts: Well, let me put my two cents in. When I lived in San Bruno, I heard stories about the Daly City Cemetery. I have been to this cemetery and I never witnessed anything. But, this cemetery was legendary. There were many grave robbings, because graverobbers would steal the jewelry from the graves. The Chinese have a tendency of placing valuable jewelry and money into the graves of their loved ones. People saw ball lightning flying around the tombstones. Legend has it two lovers parked their car and a blue glowing disc landed in the graveyard and the boyfriend went to investigate and never came back. The girl got into the driver's side of the vehicle and drove like crazy to get out of the graveyard and she claimed a Bigfoot creature jumped from the gated arch onto the hood of her boyfriend's car. Legend has it that the girl was last known to be in a mental ward in Napa. Her boyfriend was never seen again and the police thought the girl had murdered her boyfriend and did not believe her lunatic ramblings. So the story goes...

We had a meeting at The Old City Cemetery and Shannon related about the upcoming Northern California Paranormal Conference that will be held at the Brookdale Lodge in Brookdale, California. Special guest is psychic Nancy Bradley.
Shannon discussed the soon-to-be-released H.P.I. comic book. H.P.I. Meets Dracula. Artist is Mike Henderson (former founder of H.P.I.), writer is Paul Dale Roberts and Letterer is Warren Montgomery (former letterer of the comic book Razor). John Wachter aka Vlawde has created a H.P.I. radio site, various H.P.I. members can host the show or be guests on the show and may discuss their paranormal experiences. Tim Hawkins talked about a possible field trip investigation on the U.S.S. Hornet. Shannon elaborated that maybe sometime in the future we can go out-of-state for an investigation. Places that people mentioned that we could investigate was the Bell Witch Haunting in Tennessee, Elvis Presley Mansion, New Orleans. Kristen Sheley said 'let's take it further, let's go overseas, like England!' A note to Kristen, Carol Gillis and I have both been to the Tower of London, one of the most haunted places in London! Another eerie place in England that I personally visited was Stonehenge. England is overrun by ghosts! But, that's my thoughts on the matter!

Now as we were all leaving the cemetery, we were missing one investigator. Some of us were concerned. Did this investigator meet up with some unknown force? Was she consumed by a portal that took her into an unearthly dimensional realm? Was she being held captive at a mausoleum by the undead? Did we need to do a search and rescue for this investigator? The investigator Julie English wasn't missing at all. She was riding around in a motorized Sheriff cart with her arm around the deputy. That Julie, she's a real card! Geesh!
